Justices Hear Queen Contest Poster Charge

Charges of advertising violations against Nadine Harwood, homecoming queen contestant, were filed yesterday in Student Court. Hearing has been set for Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Student Union.

Miss Harwood is accused of displaying her posters more than 73 hours before the opening of the polls. Since no prosecuting attorney has been appointed yet, the Homecoming committee filed the charges against Miss Harwood, who is sponsored by Dudley Hall.

Voting begins at 9 a.m. Friday in the Inner Quad and ends at 4 p.m., according to Stan Croonquist, chief justice.

SAC Signs Ray Hackett To Play for Semi-Formal

Somebody's Mixed Up!

Band Booked For November Social Event

Ray Hackett, rated "one of the best" for danceable music, will play for the Coronation Ball to be held Nov. 5 in the Civic Auditorium, according to Jim Cottrell, Social Affairs committee chairman.

Hackett and his 12-piece orchestra will play from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. for the expected crowd of over 5000.

Hackett is musical director of radio station KCBS in San Francisco and is featured on the "Bill Weaver Show" every afternoon.

He has played at the Hotel Mark Hopkins in San Francisco, at the Coconut Grove and Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles. He also has performed at Bay Meadows.

This year's dance will be a semi-formal affair with the men wearing suits and the women wearing formals, Cottrell said.

Bids for the dance are to be distributed free starting approximately Oct. 29, Cottrell said. There will be only one bid to a couple.

The next meeting of the Social Affairs committee will be tomorrow at 7 p.m. in Room 117 when the group is expected to work on decorations, bids and publicity for the ball.

Cottrell urged all interested persons to attend the meeting.

Committee Will Discuss Traffic Signal Problem

Breaking laws and endangering lives, hundreds of SJS students, on foot and in autos, are suffering from anti-walk-waititis.

In an attempt to solve the problems arising from the three newly installed campus Walk-Wait pedestrian-auto-signals on 7th St., a special committee will meet at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow to discuss possible ways of enforcing the walk-wait regulations, the timing of the signals and other problems of safety and law-enforcement.

John Amos, director of buildings and grounds, said yesterday that it is possible a campus security officer may be stationed at the signals.

Dean of Students Stanley C. Benz said yesterday that a local police officer also may be stationed at the signals to enforce the walk-wait rules on both motorists and pedestrians. "When issued a summons by campus security police, violators of the signals will be punished in the same manner as violators of campus parking regulations," Dean Benz declared.

"Of course, punishment given by regular police officers will be a civic matter," he added.

It was through the efforts of a self-formed student committee that the signals were installed. The committee took traffic counts and made recommendations to the City of San Jose. Dean Benz pointed out that students should obey the signals which were erected as a result of student effort.

Part of the five-signal plan now under construction is regular traffic soon to go into action on 7th St. at the corners of San Fernando and San Carlos.

Members of the special committee to meet tomorrow will be Dean Benz; Arthur Philpott, San Jose city traffic analyst; Robert Martin, associate dean of students; Amos and a security officer; Art Lund, ASB president; Dick Jones, Spartan Daily co-editor; and a member of San Jose Safety Council.

At yesterday's meeting, the Revelries Board considered applications for representatives-at-large. The Student Council will make the appointments today.

LABOR BLASTS WILSON

DETROIT (UP)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson was blasted by Democratic and labor leaders yesterday for saying that, although he is sympathetic with the unemployed, he likes "bird dogs better than kennel-fed dogs" because a bird dog will hunt for food "rather than sit on his fanny and yell."

Clever Technique

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Yorty's "non-political" speech, keyed to a student audience, will be on "The Federal Education Plan", "Our Foreign Policy", and "Water in California". So went the announcement of Mr. Yorty's speech as reported in the Spartan Daily. I'm sorry to say that Yorty's speech was neither non-political nor did it cover the above mentioned subjects.

We attended the speech, anticipating an interesting session of hearing Sam Yorty's views and having a question and answer period. As it was we didn't learn anything about his views, although we did learn something of his apparent cleverness.

The Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator got to the Newman Club about 15 minutes after his scheduled time. He started out by saying it was hard to campaign because of Senator Kuchel's refusal to debate with him. He then went into the Republican method of campaigning and ran down all Republican methods and accomplishments.

He expressed his disapproval of Senator McCarthy and his well known techniques and stated that he (Yorty) was clearing out Communists long before McCarthy, Nixon and the others even started. He started in 1939. What he didn't say, though, was that he used many of the methods that we now identify with Senator McCarthy, guilt by association, etc.

After about 25 minutes of Yorty's talking down the Republicans and talking up Mr. Yorty, as he apparently started to talk about his opinions, his campaign manager stood up, begged our pardon, and said that he was sorry that Yorty couldn't stay and talk to us but that he had to move on to another appointment. Yorty finished his point, bade us farewell, and departed, not having talked about any of the subjects that were announced nor having offered to answer any questions.

This seemed to us to be a very convenient way of keeping his foot out of his mouth, so far as his record and his policies are concerned.

Therefore, we do have to admit that Yorty is clever, if not honest. Those who missed his speech Monday afternoon missed nothing.

Freshmen Beware

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Beware Ye Freshmen:

A word to the wise from a crochety old Senior. Know ye that in the past, dastardly plots have robbed unwary Freshman classes of that hard-won trophy of many years fame, the Frosh-Soph Mixer Plaque.

Freshman men, look you out for sirens in the employ of the Sophs. Frosh women, be careful of what you say to that suave Sophomore that you date.

Above all, when you get that plaque, (and you will), guard it with sword and halberd if need be, for, by Methuselah's beard, the Sophs plot.

STUDYING MADE SIMPLE

I have passed my thirty-fifth birthday, and my dewlaps droop and my transmission needs oil. More and more my eyes turn inward, reminiscing, sifting the past, browsing lovingly among my souvenirs, for at my time of life memories are all a man has.

And most precious are the memories of college. It still makes my pulses quicken and my old glands leap to life just to think of it. Ah, I was something then! "Swiftly" my friends used to call me, or "Rakehell" or "Candle-at-both-ends" or "Devil Take the Hindmost." My phone was ringing all the time. "Come on, Devil-Take-the-Hindmost," a cohort would say, "let's pile into the old convertible and live up a storm. I know a place that serves all-bran after hours."

So it went—night after mad night, kicks upon kicks, sport that wrinkled care derides, laughter holding both his sides. "Come on, 'Candle-at-Both-Ends,' my companions would plead, "sing us another two hundred verses of Sweet Violets."

"No, my companions," I would reply with a gentle but firm smile, "we must turn homeward, for the cock has long since crowed."

"'Twas not the cock," they would answer, laughing merrily.

"'Twas Sam Leghorn doing his imitation of a chicken!"

And, sure enough, 'twas. Crazy, madcap Sam Leghorn. How I miss his gaiety and wit! I never tired of hearing his imitation of a chicken, nor he of giving it. I wonder what's become of him. Last I heard he was working as a weathervane in Tacoma.

Oh, we were a wild and jolly gang in those days. There was Sam Leghorn with his poultry imitations. There was Mazda Watts who always wore a lampshade on her head. There was Freddie Como who stole a dean. There was Cap Queeg who always carried two steel marbles in his hand. There was Emily Hamp who gilded her house mother.

Yes, we were wild and jolly, and the wildest and jolliest was I... But not right away. I blush to admit that in my freshman year I was dull, stodgy, and normal. I finally corrected this loathsome condition, but for a while it was tough and go. And, dear reader—especially dear freshman reader—be warned: it can happen to you.

The makers of Philip Morris have bought this space so I can bring you a message each week. There is no more important message I can give you than the following: College can be beautiful. Don't louse it up with studying.

That was my mistake. At first, cowed by college, I studied so much that I turned into a dreary, blinking creature, subject to dry-mouth and fainting fits. For a year this dismal condition prevailed—but then I learned the real function of college. And what is that? I'll tell you what: to prepare you to face the realities of the world. And what do you need to face the realities of the world? I'll tell you what—poise, that's what you need. And how do you get poise? I'll tell you how: not by keeping your nose in a book, you may be sure!

Relax! Live! Enjoy!... That's how you get poise. Of course you have to study, but be poised about it. Don't be like some clods who spend every single night buried in a book. Not only are they not learning poise; they are also eroding their eyeballs. The truly poised student knows better than to make the whole semester hideous with studying. He knows that the night before the exam is plenty of time to study.

Yes, I've heard that lots of people have condemned cramming. But have you heard who these people are? They are the electric light and power interests, that's who! They want you to sit up late and study every night so you'll use more electricity and enrich their bulging coffers. Don't be a sucker!

Clearly, cramming is the only sensible way to study. But beware! Even cramming can be overdone. Take it easy. On the night before your exam, eat a hearty dinner. Then get a date and go out and eat another hearty dinner. Then go park someplace and light up a Philip Morris. Enjoy the peaceful pleasure it offers. Don't go home until you're good and relaxed.

Once at home, relax. Do not, however, fall asleep. This is too relaxed. To insure wakefulness, choose a chair that is not too comfortable. For example, take a chair with nails pointing up through the seat—or a chair in which somebody is already sitting.

Place several packs of Philip Morris within easy reach. Good mild tobacco helps you to relax, and that's what Philip Morris is—good mild tobacco. But Philip Morris is more than just good mild tobacco; it is also cigarette paper to keep the good mild tobacco from spilling all over the place.

Now you've got the uncomfortable chair and the Philip Morris. Now you need light. Use the lit end of your Philip Morris. Do not enrich the electric power interests.

Read your textbook in a slow, poised manner. Do not underline. It reduces the re-sale value of your book. Always keep your books in prime re-sale condition; you never know when you'll need getaway money.

As you read you will no doubt come across many things you don't understand. But don't panic. Relax. Play some records. Remove a callus. Go out and catch some night crawlers.

Relax. Be poised. Stay loose. And remember—if things really close in, you can always take up teaching.

SPARTAN DAILY 3

Nursing Dept. Planning To Expand Its Program

National Nurses Week, now in progress, found the SJS Nursing Department making tentative plans for a complete four year nursing program, leading to a B. S. degree and a Public Health Nurse Certificate.

Students graduating under this tentative program would be eligible for licensing by the State of California to become a registered nurse, according to Miss Grace Staple, nursing department head.

MISS GRACE STAPLE

Because of the great demand for better prepared nurses, the college is attempting to establish a four year plan," Miss Staple said.

At present, a two year program is offered to students who are interested in a nursing career and want a collegiate program. After two years of theory and practice training during which the students observe mothers and babies at a local hospital, the student interested in getting a degree must transfer to another college or university offering a four year program.

The Nursing Department also offers two other programs. A course of study leading to an A. B. degree is offered for registered nurses who have already completed a basic nursing program at a hospital school.

The second program now offered is for hospital students in the area who attend SJS as limited students to get classroom teaching along with their practical program at the hospital.

"HAMELBURGER, YOU ARE A HOPHEAD"

NO WORDS CAN EXPRESS the contumely I feel for you, Sir . . . for not exhorting your Pater to invite me to yacht it with you to Nassau

. . . When it was I who revealed to you that Paradisiacal comfort you now enjoy . . . enjoy sedentarily, — when you study in your room or lounge at the fireplace; and enjoy peripatetically, — shoveling snow, racing in the bridle (bridle, Sir) paths, or duding it in the sands of the desert. I could go on and on and on, but what boots it when your gratitude is proven so thin, yet the benefit so great. For you, yourself, have time and again enthusiastically vouchsafed that FRYE JET BOOTS (that I brought into your life) are the best friends a man's feet ever had — the most versatile, blissful, irreplaceable, nigh-indestructible, and indubitably indubitable footwear since ever. When you examine your exchequer and discover how this one style, which is a dozen styles in one, has enriched you through its economy and versatility, forget if you can, what duty you owe the person who has so richly endowed you. For I can utter no more; words fail me.

P.S. Dear Reader, if Hamelburger has been denounced too hastily, you can judge if you will permit recounting the full tale of FRYE'S JET BOOTS. These incomparable, one and original FRYEs are made of finest chrome tanned Calfskin specially crimped on the last for instep-and-ankle sculpture-fit, and are leather-lined for extra wear and protection. For hiking, hunting, riding; for horse, auto or plane; for wind, sun, or rain, they're the best friends a man's feet ever had. SJS Denies Enrollment to 1200 in Attempt to Stay Under State-Imposed Ceiling

Attempting to hold enrollment down to the 6400 Full-time Equivalent student ceiling set last spring by the California Legislature, San Jose State denied admission this year to approximately 1200 potential students on the basis of increased academic and other requirements.

Despite new entrance requirements, a total of 8159 full and part-time students enrolled here this quarter to bring the FTE to 6687, a total of 287 over the legislative mandate which ordered a 6400 FTE.

It was emergency action taken by President John T. Wahlquist several days prior to enrollment which placed into effect a unit load limitation plan restricting upper division students to a maximum of 16 units and lower-division to a 15½ unit peak.

"Not including the 1200 students denied admission, there's no way of estimating how many students were frightened away from San Jose State by the enrollment ceiling," President Wahlquist declared.

He said that enrollment probably will be closed at SJS for the remainder of the 1954-55 college year, and added that the 6400 FTE may be enforced. If so, the college would have to cut back its current enrollment.

How is an oil well like a cow?

In many ways the similarity between an oil well and a cow has a great deal to do with the future security of your children.

Both well and cow give us vital products—petroleum and milk. But unless we withdraw those products at an efficient rate we can ruin our source of supply.

For it's as economically unsound to take a year's supply of oil from a well in a month, as it would be to try to obtain a year's production of milk from a cow in a day!

It's equally bad economically to underproduce a well or a cow. Yet, today, the American petroleum industry is underproducing—to accommodate the oil coming into this country from far-off places.

Obviously, if our own industry is to maintain its capacity to produce it has to be able to sell its products. Whatever interferes with this jeopardizes its ability to continue to satisfy America's need for oil.

Nor does it have the financial resources to drill wells and then shut them in until needed. You have to do business to stay in business.

What's worse, oil from distant shores creates a dangerous dependency. In a national emergency it could disappear overnight. And we can't slow our production down too much and expect it to be adequate when we want it.

In our opinion, there is only one safe way to keep this nation's rate of petroleum production up to any challenge it may have to meet. That's to encourage our domestic oil industry to constantly find and develop new fields in the Western hemisphere, where we can get at them if we need them.

Mademoiselle Magazine Gives Rules for Writing Competition

Rules have been announced for the Mademoiselle's college board contest and annual writing competition in which undergraduate women students compete for a paid trip to New York and job opportunities on top magazines.

Rules of eligibility include enrollment in an accredited junior college or college, and availability for work in New York during the month of June, 1954. Contestants must be under 26 years of age.

Winners of the contest will be judged on their 1500-word criticism of an August, September, October or November, 1954, issue of Mademoiselle. They should discuss the issue as a whole, likes and dislikes, suggestions for changes, and then select a field of interest, such as fashions, and criticize it in detail.

Winners in this competition will become college board members and do writing assignments for top magazines while still in college. They will do three such assignments with a possibility of a $50 cash prize on each assignment. Some 20 college board members will then become Guest Editors, and receive a paid trip to New York, to spend the month of June, on salary, in the Mademoiselle offices. These guest editors will help write and illustrate the 1955 August College Issue.

Entries should be typewritten and postmarked no later than Nov. 30. On a separate page, give name, class year, college and home address, major and minor, extra-curricular activities, and summer jobs. Entries should be addressed to College Editor, Mademoiselle, 575 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N.Y.

Bowen Lists Late, Reg Fee

Payment of a 50-cent late fee will still enable students to attend the Student Y Fall Regional Conference at Camp Campbell this weekend, according to Mel Bowen, publicity chairman.

The registration fee of $2.75 and the 50-cent late fee may be paid at the Student Y. An additional $5 will be charged upon arrival at Camp Campbell. The total fee entitles students to food, transportation and lodging. Students are requested to bring a sleeping bag or bed roll and the money.

Other schools attending the conference include Stanford, Cal. COP, Fresno State, Nevada, Sacramento State, and several junior colleges from Northern California.

Librarians Elect

Miss Helen Bullock, education librarian at San Jose State College, recently was elected secretary of the Golden Gate section of the California Library Assn. The association now is holding its annual convention in Long Beach.

REDS IN PACT

MOSCOW (UP)—The Soviet Union and Communist China were aligned yesterday under a strategic new agreement of "mutual understanding" seen in Moscow as the answer to the West's Southeast Asia defense treaty.

Winners in this competition will become college board members and do writing assignments for top magazines while still in college. They will do three such assignments with a possibility of a $50 cash prize on each assignment. Some 20 college board members will then become Guest Editors, and receive a paid trip to New York, to spend the month of June, on salary, in the Mademoiselle offices. Editor's note: This is a mirror column reflecting the happenings and comical occurrences in, on and about SJS. It will be a regular feature compiled by the Spartan Daily staff.

The damned duck died!
Otis Junior was found dead in its cage, and close friends believe that it was caused by "frustration and improper living quarters."
Sorrow hit the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity house last week when their pet duck "went to a greater world."
Fred Wool, the duck's best friend, was treated for shock and will return to classes soon.

Their telephone directory listing is a constant source of humor for the sisters of Delta Gamma sorority. Among the founders of the sorority was a fraternity man who was influential in naming it Delta Gamma Fraternity.

Delta Gamma, along with the campus' 14 fraternities, receives complimentary subscription to "Esquire" from a department store. The house frequently receives advertisements of men's clothing in the mail.

Prospective male rushees frequently visit the DG house during the nights of fraternity open houses and walk away chagrined when they discover their mistake.

High school girls often phone the house to make dates with the fraternity men, but suffer disappointment when a feminine voice explains the situation.

Gentlemen: Please let me know how I can obtain a copy of Western Nature Study Vol. 1 No. 2 on the subject of Birds, published April, 1930. Thanks, Doris R. Reed, (Mrs. Ronald B. Reed) Berkeley, 8, Calif.

This letter was received by the Spartan Daily and through an intense search a copy of the "Bird Book" was found.

Appreciation plus!
Kappa Alpha pledge president Bob Waters presented the chapter officers with some strange and interesting gifts. President Dick Bender received a hamster, Veep Bill Lampson, a turtle, and Pledge Master Dick Fef a tropical fish.

Appreciation?

The grapevine has it that Business Manager E. S. Thompson is having trouble with some of the purchases that go through his office.

Thompson was awakened from a sound slumber at 5 o'clock one morning to answer the phone. The voice on the other end of the line informed him that it was the Western Union calling and then announced calmly, "Your horses are here."

After several seconds of probably wishing he'd never answered the phone and wondering if it could be all a dream, Thompson began asking questions and finally found out that it really was some horses he'd ordered. . . sea horses, measuring a few inches in length, for the Science Department.

That's a horse of a different color!

Thot for the Day: "Blessed are those who go 'round in circles. . . for they shall be known as big wheels." —Santa Monica City College Corsair.

Science Dept. Gets Request For 1930 Work

Many requests for issues of the Western Nature Study pamphlets published here in 1930 are still received by the Science Department, according to Dr. Carl D. Duncan, natural science division chairman.

As many as 20 requests a year are received for copies of the bulletins. These orders may come from as far east in the U. S. as New England and from foreign countries. However, about half of the requests come from people on the West Coast.

Publication of the pamphlets was started by the Science Department faculty in 1930 with financial support from the State Department of Education, according to Mrs. Eva McRae of the department. However this support ended and only six different pamphlets were published. These issues were written for easy reading which Mrs. McRae feels accounts for their popularity.

Dr. Gayle Pickwell was the editor of the pamphlets and supplied most of the illustrations. Associate editor was Dr. Karl Hazeltine.

NCAB Statistics Rank Pierce High

San Jose State Quarterback Benny Pierce is ranked 10th in total offense and fourth in passing offense in statistics released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau today.

George Shaw of University of Oregon, the Spartans' next opponent, leads the nation in both departments. Shaw has an outstanding lead in total offense with 117 plays and 661 yards.

Pierce, quarterbacking veteran, has 74 plays for 442 yards for 10th place.

Paul Larson, University of California's All-American candidate, follows Pierce with 438 yards.

Shaw leads the nation in passing with 580 yards. Shaw attempted 83 passes, completed 41 and had 3 intercepted. The Oregon flash who led his team to an upset victory over Larson's Bears last week has thrown for three touchdowns and sports a 49.4 percentage.

Pierce is in fourth place behind Shaw with 444 yards gained passing. Benny has thrown 59 passes, completed 33 and had 5 intercepted.

Wessman, Hardy Lauded

Clarence Wessman and Charlie Hardy looked "as fine as any two ends I've seen on the coast this year" in the Arizona game, Coach Bob Bronzan said yesterday.

In a United Press release Bronzan enlarged on the statement, saying, "Wessman caught five passes, did some tremendous running after catching the ball, blocked well and was practically immovable on defense. Hardy's blocking was outstanding."

Roy Hiram's knee is still a big question mark. Hiram, the only injury of any consequence in the Arizona game last week, may not be ready for the University of Oregon game Oct. 23.

Several other players received praise for their showing in the past tilt. Stan Beasley, Dave Fanner and Benny Pierce sparked the Spartan attack.

Wessman, who ran afoul of an eligibility rule last year, started his first game of the season against ASC. Hardy, in his second year as a regular, is one of SJS's "midget ends."

After Oregon, the Spartans face North Texas State, College of Pacific, Stanford, Fresno State and New Mexico on successive weekends.
